Dear friends and colleagues,

We are honored to invite you to the 17th International Congress of Endocrinology in collaboration with the 15th Annual Meeting of the Chinese Society of Endocrinology (ICE-CSE 2016) to be held on August 31 - September 4, 2016 in Beijing, China.

A world-renowned faculty of professors and researchers will share their experience promising, an exciting scientific program, which will include the most important cutting-edge development in basic research and the latest advances of clinical management in the field of endocrinology.

The Congress provides international and local experts with an opportunity to present lectures and workshops, covering a range of topics and important issues which affect us all from the laboratory to the clinic. In addition to the scientific program the ICE-CSE will offer abundant choices of networking events.

We are sure you will have an amazing experience exploring the most rapidly developing city of Beijing, enjoying the Chinese culture in all aspects including history, religion and fine cuisine.

We look forward to welcoming you in the vibrant city of Beijing.

President

*17th International Congress of Endocrinology
15th Annual Meeting of Chinese Society of Endocrinology*

Dear friends and colleagues,

We are excited to be partnering with the Chinese Society of Endocrinology (CSE) to host the first ever International Congress of Endocrinology (ICE) in China!

The collaboration promotes the International Society of Endocrinology's (ISE) long-term commitment to supporting endocrinology across the globe, especially in developing nations.

Our local and international experts are working together to develop an unmissable program of the highest scientific standard appealing to the full spectrum of endocrinologists around the globe – discovery scientists, clinician scientists, practicing endocrinologists and of course, our ongoing commitment to trainees.

Held jointly with the CSE annual meeting, ICE-CSE 2016 promises to be a rich and fulfilling educational event with the opportunity to learn from experts, colleagues and peers based around the world in a diverse and colourful environment, unique only to ICE!

Having further developed the CSE's relationship with the ISE, I am personally very enthusiastic in welcoming you all to the exciting location of Beijing, our host city, for this landmark event. It promises to be a memorable experience and we hope you can join us.

Paul Stewart

Secretary Treasurer

Beijing Tips

LOCATION

Beijing is located on the western coast of China on the Pacific Ocean. Beijing stands at the northern tip of the North China Plain. Beijing lies at approximately the same latitude as Philadelphia in the U.S. and Madrid in Spain. The city is 39% flat land and the other 61% is quite mountainous area. Beijing is surrounded by the Yanshan Mountains on the west, north and east while the small alluvial plain of the Yongding River lies to its southeast. Beijing faces the Bohai Sea, and the area is also called the Beijing Bay.

CLIMATE

The average low and high temperatures are 14°C (57°F) and 26 °C(79°F). The rainy season has ended, so Beijing is back to its usual dry conditions.

CLOTHING

Summer clothes are still ok, but bring a cardigan or a coat to cope with morning and evening coolness.

TIME

Time used in Beijing and all over China is called Beijing Standard Time. It is 8 hours ahead of Greenwich Mean Time (GMT+8).

ELECTRICITY

The electric voltage in China is 220V/50Hz and the standard wall socket has three-connectors (L, N and E).

TIPPING

Tipping is not expected by service attendants in China, except for tour guides, hotel porters and housemaids.
